Improve Quality of Care in Skilled Nursing Facilities (SNF) With Data

Costs are up, occupancy is down.

Now is the time to get your SNF house in order to ensure you're successful in a post-COVID-19 world.

Perform Your Inspection 1

Identify discrepancies and quality issues

- Identify key areas surveyors will be looking at when preparing for your survey window
- Uncover the leading causes of readmissions for your residents
- Identify average length of stay for different patient populations

Know the competition

- Identify top competitors for your primary feeder hospitals
- Gather market data
  - Know how your competitors are performing
  - Identify market share trends for the month, quarter, and year

Questions to ask yourself:

- Do I have tools that can help me identify admission trends by hospital and by payers?
- Do I know the type of patients in my building and what resources I need to support them?
- Do I have access to real-time data that lets you monitor interactions at the patient level?
- Can I accurately calculate average length of stay data?

Questions to ask yourself:

- Do I know how my competitors are performing?
- Do I know if another SNF in my network had a bad survey or lost 5-star quality rating?
- Do I know my market share based on patient volume trends, reimbursements, and length of stay?
- What are my readmission rates for my hospital partners and managed care partners?
- Do I know operations stats for my payers, hospitals and physicians?

3 Boost Your Curbside Appeal

- Build a complete picture of your organizational performance
- Take action on your insights
- Visualize emerging trends and identify where resources are needed
- Know where you stand in your network
- Transform the way you measure, manage and report
- Become a trusted advisor and drive meaningful conversations

4 Pick the Right Agent
