ACOs and Risk Bearing Providers

Real-time data and insights to improve population outcomes.

Improve collaboration and coordination across care settings for your managed populations.

ACOs and risk bearing providers are responsible for patient outcomes, even as they move to other care settings. Tracking and supporting specific populations is paramount to value-based care programs, and requires the right information at the right time to help effectively monitor and continue to coordinate patient care during transitions.

PointClickCare provides care managers the data visibility needed to oversee, collaborate, and coordinate care for the patients they monitor, especially their managed populations. Our solutions support:

Alleviate phone and fax follow-up with patient data at your fingertips

Real-time insights for timely collaboration and coordination during transitions of care

Highlighting patient risk and prioritization with our proprietary risk models

Improved visibility into post-acute care and partner performance

Enhanced quality performance

Reduction in unnecessary admissions and readmissions

Access the largest acute, post-acute, and long-term care network

We power the largest collection of acute and post-acute insights in the United States. Our solutions span the care continuum including post-acute settings, with 95% of hospitals in the United States discharging patients to skilled nursing facilities in our network. By joining our network, risk bearing providers gain access to comprehensive data for optimized care and collaboration.

“As part of our value-based payment program through Medicare, we make sure patients are getting quality care by closing as many care gaps as possible and taking care of their needs. We’re decreasing costs by reducing unnecessary admissions—especially for those with chronic illnesses. So, we’re spending less by taking better care of these patients.”

PointClickCare's ACO and Risk-Bearing Provider Solutions Include:

Value Based Care for ACOs

Value Based Care for ACOs offers a single system to track and manage patients as they move to other care settings. Providing care managers with patient encounter information in real-time, offers the ability to highlight and focus on high-risk patients, and share care plans with broader care teams, directly supporting program strategies for value-based payment arrangements. Robust insights and data improve length of stay and utilization, while enhanced workflows facilitate directed interventions that can reduce unwanted outcomes.

PAC Network Management

Connecting hospitals and ACOs with post-acute partners facilitates seamless transitions of care for their populations of interest and improves post-discharge outcomes. With access to the largest network of skilled nursing facilities in the U.S., care managers can proactively monitor patients, improve post-acute transitions, promote better patient outcomes, and work more collaboratively with post-acute partners to develop and maintain a high-performing network. Care management teams gain valuable insights into care and encounters, improving adherence to quality measures and reducing readmission rates.
